

education and training. He should make himself multifaceted and modern.

Overall, while proving himself as a perfect teacher, a teacher must create a culture of overall quality, be committed to creating educated and civilized society and to create advanced human resources. For this it is the need of the time to advocate high values of life to the teacher, to contribute to the work of nation-building by adopting multi-faceted personality. To bring certain stability to today's unstable and oscillating social system.... we can realise the dream of strong and glorious India if today's teachers are moral strong.

electronic media are occupying their child mind. Unwanted rituals are being performed on them. In such a time, the teacher has to do lot of hard work to keep his students away from evil ways by imparting good morals to their students. For this the teacher has to raise his role as a guide, friend, psychologist, counselor. Today's student is becoming very smart, so it is necessary for teacher to stay up-to-date with knowledge and experience. The real teacher is the one who gives scope to the creativity and attentiveness of the students. One who not only asks students questions but forces them to ask questions, makes them thinkers and doers. Makes them habit of self study.

It is the need of time to protect and conserve environment. Therefore, students of today should become an ideal citizen of the future. He should inculcate environmental values in them in order to preserve and conserve nature and environment. For this he should conduct activities like, An hour in the company of Nature, Nature Club, Eco-club, Tree Plantation, developing garden and nursery, and provide education through direct Action. A teacher should be social, He should review the social and family background of the students. Needy and promising students should be given helping hand. Care should taken to the students to ensure that no student is deprived of education because of financial status. He should be a good communicator and should have high values in life and goal orientation. He should remember that it is moral responsibility to shape and create good society from the school. In keeping with today's fast going time, as a part of an advance society today's teacher should be aware of the use of changing technology. He should also be techno-savvy. He should be able to skillfully use information and technology in study and teaching. Today new trends are coming in education. New policies and techniques are being implemented. Education of professional art skills has become the need of the time. Sex education, Hygiene and Health Literacy and Awareness, Disaster Management, Media Literacy are being added. In such constantly changing and fluid times it is necessary to keep up-to-date with camps, cultural programmes, educational trips, field visits, external competitive examinations, inter-school competitions, lectures should be organised in planned manner, and provide proper guidance and encouragement to the students to participate in it. The teacher himself should be multi-talented and well-versed. He should skillfully use his knowledge, rich experiences in teaching learning process. He should make it active by using interesting and pleasant teaching methods. He should encourage students for extra reading. He should try to enrich the school library for the development of reading culture. He should take extra reading activities to make the students enjoy reading. Innovative and creative programs like book exhibition, literary chat, speech, essay writing, poetry writing; reading, quiz, various special days and jubilees, should be organised. Sport festivals, Children's Anand Mela, Sneh Mela or Gathering, Students Literary Mela, Interviews, funny games, Theatre Presentations, Science Exhibitions, should be organised. A Teacher himself should be punctual and disciplined. He should be strict on occasions to inculcate discipline among the students. But there should be no terror in the name of discipline. Student should have a respectful fear of him. Therefore the behaviour of the teacher should be clean and spotless. Care should be taken to ensure that student study in healthy school environment by paying attention to personal hygiene. Teacher should have scientific approach. He should motivate the students to become science oriented. Efforts should be made to discourage students from old customs and superstitions.

Today's society is losing sense of values to a great extent and sensibility is becoming zero in this fast-paced era, so there is need to create value-oriented society today to bring the misguided ark of the society to the right shore. For this reason the teachers are looking forward to today...! Therefore, the responsibility of the teachers has definitely increased today. Why it is said, "the future of the nation is happening today in the classrooms of the schools." But the today's students are very attracted to external media, mobile inculcate in his mind that teaching is his primary duty. However, the teacher should strive to make the students not only knowledgeable and capable, to be virtuous and cultured. For this, the teacher should become the friend and guide of the students. He should know the level of students their physical growth and development stages. He should also know the family and social background of the students. He should the psychology of the students means child psychology. He should be able to identify the interest, inclination, hobby and ability of the students. Only then can the teacher fulfill his role in students' development. He will be true guide of students.

The personality of the teacher should be pleasant and impressive. He should achieve it with efforts through talking, walking and acting. He should always show willingness to work. He must have a positive attitude. He should love their students. He should appreciate the skill of the students and their parents. He should encourage the students continuously. His behaviour should be motivation for all. He should not constantly point out the faults of the students or make them mentally ill by punishing. He should be sensitive. He has the ability to know his students well. He should find out various skills and abilities in the students and give them opportunities. However, he should avoid narrowness and partiality while motivating the students. Special guidance should be given to the students who are slow and raw in their studies. To solve the problems and clear doubts of the parents he should arrange parents' meetings time to time. He should be good guide. According to Dr. APJ. Abdul Kalam "I shall consider myself a great teacher only when I am efficient in learning to elevate ordinary students to higher positions and actions." This gospel of Kalam must be remembered and put in action by the teacher.

Today's teacher must be experimental and productive. Today's student should face the new challenges of the changing times and the competitive era effectively rather than the teaching that takes place within four walls. For this, various co-curricular activities, inter-school activities, seminars, workshops

Teacher, A Nation Builder

Gurudev Tagore defined education as saying "Education is the triple confluence of emotion, language and life." The overall progress of children is rooted in the education they receive. Education is an effective means of social change. Since the pre-independence era, many social reformers emphasized on the spread of education. Gyanmandir was created in the form of a school to build the society, keeping in mind the formula, "If you want to change the man in man, there is no solution without education." An important element in this sacred temple of knowledge is the teacher. In order to achieve the basic purpose of education, the teacher is considered as an important and responsible factor for the development of the society and the nation through the overall development of the students. In this dynamic modern era of experimental education revolution, competition, new technology, new challenges and changing social context, the role of today's teachers is very important as well responsible.

A lot of new experiments are being done in the field of education today. School and education quality is currently becoming a topic of discussion and debate. While facing the new changes and challenges in this education it is necessary to improve the quality of the students. For this today's teacher needs to be clever and versatile. The quality of schools depend on the ability and skill of the teachers. He is the energizing passion and the 'shining sun' in the whole educational process of the school. Since the student is the centre of the school, teacher has to be constantly experimenting and active in order to develop the mind, brain and the wrist of the students, keeping in mind that students in front of them are the pillars of tomorrow's society.

A teacher should first love teaching. A teacher

GYS Guru Puxaskar - A National Essay Writing Contest for Teachers

* Name : Mr. Kishor Arvind Walavalkar
(Assistant Teacher)

* School : Kalambist English School, Kalambist
Tal - Sawantwadi Dist - Sindhudurg
State : Maharashtra

* Res. Address : 202, Sadguru Apt. Near Panchayat Samitee
Salaiwada - Sawantwadi
Tal - Sawantwadi Dist - Sindhudurg
State - Maharashtra PIN - 416510

* Mobile No : 9421191435, 7350580189

* Email : kishorwalavalkar25@gmail.com

Topic : Teacher, a Nation Builder